

Spring Online Professional Development

Professionalism—Styles and Dispositions in the Workplace

This three-week course will allow early care and education professionals to communicate, reflect, and update the professional styles they may use or want to use to improve in the field of early childhood education. Today's early childhood professional must demonstrate knowledge of the skills, styles, and dispositions required to succeed in the workplace. This requires a commitment to the profession, including commitments to their regular work environment and beyond. Using activities and resources, this course provides participants with strategies to adopt positive and ethical habits that will serve them personally and professionally.

Trainer: Jasmine Davis

CKC: K6.9 C2

Keystone STARS & CDA Alignment : LM 3.4.3 / CDA:6

All courses offer PQAS and Act 48 hours.

$15/Three hours

Limited spaces available.

January 27–February 10, 2020

Contact

Jasmine Davis

412.567.3933

jasmine@tryingtogether.org

Register at tryingtogether.org/professional-development/courses.