MIMI BRODSKY CHENFELD

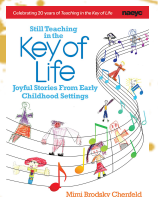

Teacher, Author and Educational Consultant

Joy is not a dishwashing liquid! Still teaching in the "Key of Life"

In our high-tech, high-pressure educational environment, it is so easy to forget how children and teachers need to experience the JOY and FUN of learning. They need to experience it without stress, without fear of failure, but with confidence, success, and high-quality experiences of delight. Through this, children make meaningful connections and feel valued, confident, and safe in loving classroom communities. Time is our only limitation as we celebrate simple, easy, joyful ways to help children learn and grow.

Mimi will have copies of "Still Teaching in the Key of Life: Joyful Stories From Early Childhood Settings." for purchase and to sign after the keynote.
