Trying Together is a trusted early childhood nonprofit based out of Southwestern Pennsylvania that has been supporting the work of early childhood for more than 60 years. At the core of our work is the vision that all caregivers feel valued for the important role they play in the healthy development and learning of young children.

On April 30, 2026, Trying Together will celebrate more than 800 early care and education providers and the astounding work they do for young children and their families.

Businesses, organizations, and individuals can purchase full-color advertisements to appear in the Dinner & VIP Reception program book.
